"Sons of the Serpent"

Looks like there is a new Dreccian tribe but operating as a (possibly White NS & Hispanic) 1%er Outlaw MC (Motorcycle Club)? With alleged ties to Houston, Texas, Western Canada (most likely Alberta) and Altantic Canada (home of Jon Skinner the alleged individual behind the Dark Gnosis pen name originally). They seem engaged in security services for call girls and other sex workers as well as the trafficking of methampethamine ie crystal methampethamine or ice. Jon Skinner was allegedly an addict or user of meth. And had a misogynistic t-shirt which said "Smoke Meth, Beat Whores & Hail Satan". It was thrown out of court however he was alleged to have beaten his ex-girlfriend Hurricane Cori (a sex worker and former stripper -- who is by the way at large with warrants for her arrest out), broken into her home and then proceeded to force her into sexual acts. With her allegations that he said "suck my dick bitch". The judge threw it out because Ms Peterpaul (Hurricane Cori's legal last name) was presumed intoxicated (drunk -- as she was a known alcoholic) and could not keep her story straight. She also proceeded to threaten violence towards Mr. Skinner's legal defense attorney. A most beautiful mature lady who had the most darling outfit in court. Very nice jewelry and rings as well. And very professional and of course very attractive. She was taken out of court numerous times due to being disruptive in general, using vulgar language and overall throwing a tantrum a toddler would thrown.

The poor lady who was Mr. Skinner's attorney had to be escorted out of the building to ensure her safety. Needless to say Mr. Skinner walked out of court a free man that day. Having served his time for damage to property, posession of a weapon in a public meeting and numerous court breaches -- he simply would disobey whatever tyrannical conditions were placed upon him and spent time in and out of remand. This source I hear is none other than a gentleman police officer who wishes to remain anonymous. And acted very honorably towards Mr. Skinner. Of course this is all hypothetical here as none of it is verifiable. It is speculation.

However, even Mr. Skinner's mother I am told said "that bitch got what was coming to her". I am told no one has taken Ms. Peterpaul's side, however, am told that all assault charges were dropped as they were in self-defense. That is to say she got exactly what she deserved.
